

Karlebo Mill

Karlebo Mill, Kirkeltevej 161C, 2980 Kokkedal

There have been various types of milling in Karlebo since the Middle Ages. The current mill is from 1835 and was built on the site of a burnt down post mill. The mill operation ceased in 1946.

The mill, which was protected in 1950, is provided with latticed clutch sails and self-winding.

Karlebo Mill, is located high on a hilltop and there is a completely unique view of Karlebo village and the hilly terrain, especially to the north and east.

There is only access on foot. Parking can be done along Kirkeltevej

Højsager Mill

Højsagervej 8, 3480 Fredensborg

*Højsager Mill, was built in 1870.
It was protected in 1959 but was operating until 1972.*

The mill itself has undergone a major restoration and now the mill association's volunteers must learn to drive the mill.

The mill is provided with Self-winding and Self-reefing sails.

The area around the mill is a publicly accessible area where you are welcome to eat your brought food at the tables.

*The mill hill invites to a very de-stressing experience.
Enjoy the landscape. It's completely free.*

Experience the inside of a mill

The mills can usually be visited on Thursdays when there are volunteer helpers present, if no groups or schools are occupied.

Groups / companies can, by agreement and for a fee, have a mill opened and presented.

Guided tours are offered on announced opening days. See the website www.fredensborg-mollelaug.dk

Friends of the historical mills

Fredensborg Møllelaug.

The purpose of the guild is to show that there is a popular support for our work to look after and preserve the 2 protected mills. We present we have about 370 signed members

The helpers of the historic mills

About 15 people are volunteer helpers

The mill association needs helpers who want to act as guides, or participate in the work of supervising and maintaining the Mills.

We offer relevant educations through peer training and courses.

Be trained in the history of the mills or in being able to operate the mill's machinery and learn to grind grain into flour.

The mills are owned by Fredensborg Municipality
